

Exploring Black Pre-PA Perspectives on the PA Entry-Level Doctorate

Please consider participating in this research project by completing an electronic survey that will take approximately 15 minutes. Your participation in this study is voluntary, anonymous, and confidential. This study aims to understand better the thoughts and opinions of Black individuals considering a career as a PA, explicitly concerning the current debate of transitioning the entry-level PA degree to a doctorate. The benefits of participation in completing the survey are contributing to understanding the unique perspectives of Black Pre-PA students, potentially leading to insights that can inform future policies and initiatives in the PA profession.

Definition of PA Entry-Level Doctorate: A minimum doctoral-level academic credential requirement for individuals seeking to become practicing PAs.

The first 100 participants will receive a $10 Amazon gift card. There will also be a drawing for one participant to receive a $500 E Ink writing tablet.
